

RGS Energy Selected as Exclusive Installer for Solarize Granby Campaign

DENVER, CO, March 14, 2017 – RGS Energy (NASDAQ: RGSE), a residential and small commercial solar company since 1978, has been selected by Solarize Granby, a non-profit purchasing cooperative, to bring solar electricity to homes and business owners in Granby, Connecticut.

Solarize Granby's goal is to increase the number of Granby homeowners adopting a clean energy solution while simultaneously reducing their cost of electricity. The township of Granby consists of approximately 10,000 homeowners. RGS Energy anticipates the campaign to commence on April 5th and run through the beginning of August

"We are excited to bring this energy solution opportunity and RGS Energy as the Solarize Granby installer to the citizens of our community," stated B. Scott Kulhny, First Selectman, Town of Granby. Kent McCord, Solar Coach & Granby Conservation Commission member, further defined the committee's decision with, "Granby selected RGS Energy due to their competitive price, national scale, and local presence."

RGS Energy Vice President of Sales Seth Wiggins commented: "This solarize program marks the 40th time in our history we have been awarded a community solarize campaign, since we began as America's original solar company in 1978. We believe we can provide exceptional service to Granby, given our recently relocated operations and warehouse facility in nearby Bloomfield."
